Our Cookies Policy

Last updated: 23/08/2018

R B Porter Ltd uses cookies on our website - www.rbporterheatingltd.co.uk, and by using our Service, you consent to the use of cookies.

Our Cookies Policy explains to you exactly what cookies are, how we use cookies, and also how third-parties we may partner with may use cookies on our Service. Within the policy, it also explains to you your choices regarding cookies, and further information should you wish to research cookies further.

So, what are cookies?

Cookies are small pieces of text that are sent from your web browser by a website that you visit. A cookie file is stored in your web browser and then allows the website or a third-party to recognise you, and make your next visit easier and a little more useful to you.

Cookies can be "persistent", or "session" cookies.

Persistent cookies remain on your computer or mobile device when you go offline, however session cookies are deleted as soon as your browser is closed.

How do R B Porter Ltd use cookies?

When you use and access our Service, we may place a number of cookies files into your web browser.

Cookies are used by us for the following purposes:

- To enable certain functions of the website
- Provide analytics
- Store your preferences
- Enable the delivery of advertisements (including behavioural advertising).

We use both session and persistent cookies on our Service, and we also use different types of cookies to run our Service. These are as follows:

Essential cookies

We may use essential cookies to authenticate users and prevent any fraudulent use of user accounts.

Third-party cookies

In addition to our own cookies, we may also use various third-parties cookies to report usage statistics of the Service, deliver advertisements on and through the Service, and so on.

What are your choices regarding cookies

If you wish to delete cookies, or instruct your web browser to delete or refuse cookies, please visit the relevant help pages of your web browser.

Please note, however, that if you delete cookies or refuse to accept them, you may not be able to use all of the features that we offer, you may not be able to store your preferences, and some of our pages might not display correctly.
